

www.bike2cav.at

Avoiding cyclist collisions by the use of vehicle-to-everything (V2X) communication

Developing the connectivity and automatization of vehicles represents a great opportunity to improve cycling safety. A consortium, led by Salzburg Research, is working on innovative technologies to improve safety for vulnerable road users. Its focus is on finding opportunities for the cooperative detection of collision risks, as well as non-distracting warning concepts.

Project lead

Project Partners

Funding Agency

FFG